Quotes & Notes

- Armbro Chronicle has been like a Blue Chip investment for his quartet of owners, with an annual return that matures every year. As a 2- and 3-year-old Armbro Chronicle made enough to earn his keep but the 6-year-old son of Self Possessed has blossomed in the older trotting ranks, earning in excess of $200,000 in the last two years.
- Armbro Chronicle trotted a strong :27 last quarter to finish fourth in the Breeders Crown track record elim, won by Enough talk in 1:51.1
- “He was good,” said driver Mike Saftic. “He has not raced since Ottawa (when he won Frank Ryan Memorial.) he had a couple of weeks off, but he finished up real strong and made the final, so mission accomplished. Hopefully we draw good. I think that he is ready for a 1:51 mile out here if the track is good.”
- Trainer and co-owner Kent Baker echoed those sentiments. “I thought that he raced quite well. It’s a pretty tough bunch of horses, Mike drove him good, and he got away good. We made it to the final, and as far as I am concerned that is the important thing. As far as next week I’ll take any post position but I don’t want the 10 hole. He will do well for himself. He can race anyway—come from behind or tough it.
- This is the first start in Crown competition for owners Kent Baker, E Wayne Smith, Cal Patterson, and Randy Fielder.
